

SPECIAL EDITION

STORYBOOK ROMANCE STORYBOOK WEDDING

IT'S OFFICIAL
- THEY WILL
LIVE HAPPILY EVER AFTER

By Lois Lane

Gotham City thrilled to the wedding of the century at Rudstone Walk on Friday. Stars were out in force on the red carpet to wish the bride and groom a joyful life together. The ceremony confirmed that one day her prince did come. A day that was the happy ending following "the glass slipper incident".

In this true life Love Story the swashbuckling hero gets the girl and starts work on the living happily ever after.

The dazzling bride and dashing groom began their life together with a glittering ceremony, celebrating their storybook romance with a lavish storybook wedding.

Recent years have had their ups and downs for Kathy and Denis, pictured right, but now it's "let the good times roll".

These soul mates are destined for long, fulfilling lives together.

Guests came from far and wide to share the day. Cruella de Vil (pictured right talking to her pilot, Djinn of The Lamp, and your reporter directing some Bright sparks) interrupted her holiday in Egypt.

The music played but the fat lady didn't sing so it's certainly not over for Cinderella and Prince Charming and their family.

ON THE WEB for more on this story see www.itsy.co.uk/photosof/2010/wedding/

NO LEX LUTHOR, BUT NO SHORTAGE OF STARS.

Pics by Jimmy Olsen

Biggles, Arthur Dent, Dorothy and Little Red Riding Hood. "Free Beer What-Oh"

Holly, Rob Roy and an unidentified bunny.

A serious affair witnessed by a clown.

Daily Planet EDITORIAL

WHO ARE THEY REALLY?

The Daily Planet has been watching these pair and has some shocking allegations to make. Investigative reporters Clark Kent and Lois Lane, fearlessly spent all day checking out the facts on our behalf. They bravely consumed food and drink (and we mean that most sincerely folks). They spoke frankly to all the innocent bystanders and can report categorically - Denis and Kathy were never seen at the same time as the Prince or Cinderella. A coincidence? We don't think so.

What conclusions can we draw? Could it be that Cinderella has not only one alter ego in Cinders, but two, in Katherine? Could it be that the dashing Prince Charming moves amongst us as the self-effacing Denis? The man with the sword is also the man with the short shorts? It seems impossible - but the facts speak for themselves.

Sources close to Denis have gone on record as saying, "no I don't think he's a prince, princes are debonair". The truth is out there and Gotham City must make up its own mind. We leave you with these words from Purple Patsy (who sensibly skipped the country to avoid the press) "I've not so much lost a friend, as gained a next door neighbour".

SOURCES SAY VOWS WERE WITNESSED AND GOLD CHANGED HANDS

By Clark Kent

Shock news just in, in front of numerous eye witnesses, vows were certainly said and promises were definitely made. Ace investigative reporters, Clark Kent and Lois Lane, were on hand to confirm the stories. There's an official record we hear.

The pen had no ink in it in these photographs by Jimmy Olsen but these "so called" marriage lines created at a stroke a family of distinction here in Gotham City. The Duke of Marlborough's neighbours at 173 show us how Great Expectations are met. The Lord of the Rings made sure that a complete record was kept for posterity. It looked to us like Cinderella was turning blue as The Long Good Friday in the North by Northeast turned into A Bit of a Do. But the rain was Gone with the Wind enough to show us all a lovely day.